Five Forks BIC

This group from Pennsylvania was a major blessing to many here in Jamaica! You see the team pictured to the left standing on the porch of the one room home they built for a homeless family in Cave Mountain. Before they even started the one room home, they had the three room home pictured below nearly finished. Two families are in dry, safe, beautiful homes because of the joint effort of Five Forks week of labor and KBM's faithful supporters making it possible.

Besides building the hopes and dreams of the homeless families, the team from PA also encouraged school children in our many local schools through creative devotions.

Like most teams, this team brought in many needed supplies to the mission field. Their bags were packed with food, toilet paper, toothbrushes and toothpaste galore! Thank you Five Forks and all those who filled your suitcases! Unlike any other team up to this point, we did not know anyone on this team before they arrived. After a week of ministering together, we can say with confidence that we have many new friends in PA.

Christmas with My Father's House

Santa's two special elves, Andy Babel and Christina Frye, arrived early in December with suitcases filled with gifts for the family from Clough Baptist Church in Cincinnati. These donations added to the gifts sent with other missionaries by supporters who spent time and money assured a blessed Christmas for the children of My Father's House. Because so many worked together and shopped with one special child in mind, each child received gifts that they had hoped for. Thank you!

Kristina and Andy carried more than Christmas gifts with them; they also brought creative ideas for a month of activities. The children were busy all month with special crafts, devotions & preparing a Christmas play to share with others. The children did a great job of learning the songs and their parts to perform for our local church, the children's ward at Savanna la mar's hospital and the nearby home for the elderly—pictured above. They shared the message of the true reason for the season, candy, cookies and their love at each location.

One of the creative projects the children did with Kristina's direction is a quilt for Papa Jim and Mama Penie. Here we are pictured with the two main co-conspirators and stitchers, Novlette and Camille. Each child placed their hand print, name and age on a block. We were blessed to have Tricia, Jadah, Paige & Sherine with us this year! Sammy, Deanna and Demario's handprints have been added since we visited them after Christmas. There's still a space for Shantel's handprint. This is a special treasure of LOVE!
